Negotiating, designing and implementing business contracts is complex and requires a strategic approach. A host of international treaties & agreements have added a new complexity to international business transactions. It is important to be fully aware of the risks, your obligations locally and internationally, and your rights. A well-negotiated and drafted contract will not only ensure effectiveness but mitigate risk and minimise the possibility of needing to use dispute resolution processes.

Attend 'Negotiating & Drafting International Business Contracts' and be armed with the key tactics for successful contract negotiation, drafting, design and implementation. This one day conference has a special focus on Thailand, Indonesia and Malaysia and will ensure your success in the region.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- CEOs, CFOs, VPs, MDs, GMs
